What We Believe and Why It Is Important

As a family of forgiven people we are honored that you have joined with us today as we seek to develop people who delight in God and declare His glory—from our neighborhoods to the nations. Our prayer is that you will connect with God through Christ this morning and that this would be the beginning of a deep connection with other believers as well. Benediction

2 Corinthians 13:11, 14

Acts 8:26-35 “Do You Understand What You Are Reading?”

“If you do not listen to theology, that will not mean you have no ideas about God, rather it will mean you have a lot of wrong ones.”

C. S. Lewis

“Theology is not a philosophical pursuit of abstract speculations about God. It is in fact the examination of that which God has revealed to us. As faithful students of the Word of God, we are, by necessity, students of theology. The two are not at odds with each other; rather they serve to complement one another. Whereas the Word of God is the foundation of our knowledge, theology is the expression of our knowledge. Thus, the study of God cannot be separated from the Word of God.”

Burk Parsons

“True worship does not come from people whose feelings are like air ferns with no root in the solid ground of biblical doctrine. The only affections that honor God are those rooted in the rock of biblical truth.”

John Piper

“Any creed can be affirmed by the lips without being embraced by the heart. But once a creed is embraced by the heart, the mind is captured by it. The mind held captive by the Word of God is a transformed and transforming mind. It is a new mind that yields a new life. To be a Christian is to be one who believes. The content of that faith is at once radical and liberating. It is the truth that sets us free.”

R. C. Sproul

Big Idea of this Series: There are foundational truths from God’s Word that we must believe in order to be transformed into the image of Christ.

Big Idea of Today’s Message: Every Christian is a theologian; the center of your theology determines the object of your faith.

What is your worldview?

Why you, Christian, are a theologian – a student of God’s Word.

Why this study is important.
